Pico Bonito Lodge, Honduras

January 24-31th, 2017

$2,900 per person, double occupancy / $3,600 per person, single occupancy

Join teaching artist and professional illustrator Christine Elder for this exciting seven-night retreat in the tropical rainforest of Honduras. We will combine nature exploration and artistic expression amid the rustic luxury and solitude of Pico Bonito, creating a truly transformational week in paradise!

Along the northern coast of Honduras is a luscious rainforest filled with exquisite flora and fauna; the perfect place to learn and practice nature sketching skills, filling your sketchbook with hummingbirds and heliconias. You'll find ample inspiration at the luxurious and tranquil Pico Bonito Lodge. The Lodge sits at the edge of Pico Bonito National Park, inside Central America's largest contiguous rainforests, with views of cloud-enshrouded 8,000 foot peaks and lush gardens showcasing an amazing diversity of tropical vegetation. The property supports over 400 bird species, plus monkeys, exotic insects and reptiles, and 5 species of wild cats including the iconic jaguar.

During the week, we will explore the Lodge's network of private trails and gardens, learn and practice field sketching techniques, and be entertained by dozens of hummingbirds as they zip by us on the verandas at mealtime.

No prior art experience is necessary, just a playful curiosity about nature and an open-minded desire to learn and practice new skills. Even experienced artists will enhance their skills as we immerse ourselves in splendor!

ABOUT YOUR LEADER

You'll study with professional naturalist, teaching artist, and biological illustrator, Christine Elder. Christine has been teaching people of all ages and ability levels to draw and paint nature's wonders for over twenty years. Christine's experience as a freelance illustrator includes projects for organizations such as the National Park Service and the Botanical Society of America.

Some of you will also know Christine as one of our regular birding guides, having traveled with us from Alaska to Florida, and to international destinations such as Italy, Mexico, the Caribbean. She has also led several successful tours to Honduras. In our Honduran paradise at Pico Bonito, she will share her best secrets and techniques for sketching birds and blossoms in pencil, pen and watercolor. Learn more about Christine on her website.

OUR ENGAGING ACTIVITIES

We will spend our days at a relaxed pace, leaving our schedule flexible for the occasional rain shower. After a leisurely breakfast at the Lodge restaurant, we will typically start with a morning sketching workshop, an easy hike, or a half-day excursion, followed by lunch. Afternoons will include group field sketching or time on your own, followed by group dinners at the Lodge. Some evenings will include presentations on the ecology and natural history of the region, while others will allow for private relaxation. All activities are optional, in case you prefer to take a day to yourself, relaxing by the pool or on your private veranda.

ART INSTRUCTION: Workshops will be held outdoors or in the spacious conference center, and they will cover the tools and techniques for sketching birds and blossoms in the field. Instruction will focus on using pencil, pen, and watercolors to capture the personality and grace of birds, and the color and delicate beauty of tropical flowers. An arts materials list will be sent upon registration.

EARLY MORNING HIKE: Sunrises are unforgettable at Pico Bonito! See the dew on the trees, feel the coolness in the air, and hear the cacophony of sounds as the jungle wakes up for each day. Begin your day bright and early, at a time that offers some of the best chances for viewing birds and other wildlife. A viewing platform overlooking the forest canopy makes sketching and photography a delight.

BUTTERFLY FARM and SERPENT HOUSE: The Lodge at Pico Bonito maintains an impressive butterfly farm, where they breed over 40 species, as well as an amazing serpent house, which displays several venomous but beautiful native snakes that we are (thankfully) unlikely to see in the wild!

WILDLIFE REFUGE TRAIN & BOAT RIDE: The Cuero y Salado coastal Wildlife Refuge trip will be a highlight of our sketching holiday. Named for the Cuero and Salado Rivers, which meet the ocean here, this refuge contains 35,000 acres of tropical wet and mangrove forests with an extensive network of estuaries and natural canals to explore. A visit to Cuero y Salado is a must for birders and a wonderful experience for all those interested in Honduras' diverse wildlife and ecology. The bird list for the Refuge notes over 350 species while howler and white-faced monkeys, caimans, crocodiles and turtles are all common sights as well. Perhaps the Refuge's most famous inhabitant is the elusive and endangered West Indian Manatee, which we may see with luck. Our trip will start with a ride in a small, motorized train along a historic narrow-gauge railway that leads through pastures and coconut plantations to the refuge headquarters located near the mouth of the Salado River. Here we will tour the bird and wildlife-rich estuaries of the Refuge in a small, motorized skiff.

NIGHT STROLL: Search for nocturnal insects, reptiles, and amphibians guided by flashlights and the experienced eyes of your guide. Learn about animals that hide by day and roam by night. The trip starts by setting up an insect lamp at the forest edge. Then guests head off on the trail to the moist gallery forest along the Corinto River for a two-hour hike before returning to the lamp to see what surprises it has attracted. Although nothing is guaranteed, it is common to see tree frogs, arboreal mammals, bats, as well as a veritable potpourri of exotic insects easily observed at the 'moth cloth'.

RIO SANTIAGO NATURE RESORT: A short drive from our lodge is Rio Santiago Nature Resort, the self-proclaimed "Hummingbird Capital of Honduras," named for the river that rushes along its border. Countless hummingbird feeders surround a comfortable, shaded veranda with lots of tables that are perfect for sketching within a few feet of more than a dozen hummingbird species.

ADDITIONAL RETREAT DETAILS

ABOUT THE LODGE AT PICO BONITO: Named by National Geographic Traveler as one of the "Top 50 ecolodges of the world," and a member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World, the Lodge at Pico Bonito sits at the edge of a 400-acre Honduran rainforest, nestled between two wild rivers, with private cabins and an excellent restaurant and full-service bar, where you can dine inside or outside with a view of the lush gardens and pool. Their miles of hiking trails go up into the rainforest, skirting spectacular waterfalls and stopping at bird observation towers. The Lodge also has a butterfly garden and reptile house.

Their well-trained English-speaking guides will safely lead us on our excursions, while their comfortable conference room will host our daily sketching workshops and presentations. Tropical sounds fill the air, including parrots, monkeys, frogs, and the ever-present cicadas. If you tire of bird watching or sketching, try out the all-new Spa at Pico Bonito where you can enjoy a facial, massage or sauna. Learn more about the Lodge at www.PicoBonito.com

LOCATION: All of our activities will occur within about an hour from The Lodge at Pico Bonito, which is located outside of La Ceiba, Honduras, on the northeastern coast, adjacent to Pico Bonito National Park.

ACCOMMODATIONS: The plantation style cabins are approximately 400 square feet with private bathroom and shower, louvered and screened windows, two ceiling fans, and private veranda with hammock. Cabins also have a CD player, alarm clock with radio, safe, iPod dock, and coffee maker with Honduran organic coffee. Outlets are 110v (same as in the US), and the property features complimentary Wi-Fi access (though the strongest signal is at the main lodge).

TRAVEL INSURANCE: We strongly recommend that you purchase travel insurance with your airline ticket! This insurance covers costs associated with flight delays, trip cancellation, illness, medical expenses, lost baggage, and emergency transportation. If insurance is not offered when you purchase your ticket, we recommend Traveler Insurance Services. Also check to see if you are covered by any of your existing insurance programs or credit cards.

FLIGHT ARRIVAL /DEPARTURES: Airport transfers are included in your fee. If you decide to arrive early or stay beyond the program, you will need to arrange your own private transfer. Participants need to arrive at San Pedro Sula (SAP) no later than 2 p.m. and depart no earlier than noon.

MEALS: We will take most of our meals at the Lodge's full-service restaurant, where we may choose to dine inside or on the veranda overlooking the gardens, within earshot of the Corinto River, and with hummingbirds zipping around your table. Their diverse menu can easily accommodate dietary restrictions. They are open from 6am – 10 pm so you can duck in any time for a beverage or meal if you prefer to eat alone. Your retreat fee includes a generous meal allowance that includes choice of any meals and drinks from the menu (alcohol is not included). You can find a completed description of the restaurant and menu at: <http://www.picobonito.com/index.php/restaurant> .

CLIMATE & WEATHER: Daily weather is generally sunny and warm with temps in the 80s-90s and occasional afternoon or evening showers. The high humidity of the tropics will make it seem hotter than it is, especially for those of us who live in arid climates. However, we will take it easy on our strolls, and we will always have plenty of water, with opportunities to duck into the lodge or vans during our excursions off the property.

WHAT TO PACK: Everyone's traveling needs are different, but the list below includes items you definitely don't want to forget.

Documents: For U.S. citizens, a passport valid for six months beyond departure from Honduras is required, with one blank page for entry stamp. Non-U.S. citizens should check with their local consulate/embassy for instructions.

Clothing: When preparing for a trip to the tropics, it is generally a good idea to pack lightweight field clothing, preferably long-sleeved shirts and long pants for protection against bugs and sun. Ideal clothing incorporates synthetic fabrics that wick away moisture, dry quickly, resist wrinkles, stretch, and have sun and insect-protection qualities. Our favorite clothing retailers include Patagonia and REI. Shorts, skirts, or dresses are appropriate for lounging around at The Lodge and at dinner. We also recommend a lightweight water-resistant rain jacket or pocket umbrella. For footwear, we recommend a waterproof trail-walking shoe or light hiking boot, and sandals for lounging around the lodge. You'll also want a wide-brimmed hat and a swimsuit.

Other items not to forget: Sunscreen (preferably waterproof, SPF 25 or above), camera, sunglasses, light daypack or fanny pack, mosquito repellent, headlamp or flashlight for the night hike, and binoculars (though your guides will have an extra pair and a spotting scope).

Art supplies: Christine will send you a list of suggested supplies once you register for the retreat, although you are certainly free to use materials you already own, and she will also bring extras to share. We will primarily be exploring pencil, pen and watercolor techniques in our nature journals.

BAGGAGE: We suggest one medium-size or large bag and a smaller bag/carry-on. The Lodge at Pico Bonito provides excellent one-day laundry service. Your carry-on should have all of your necessities in case your checked bags get delayed. This may include a change of clothing, money, travel documents, toiletries, medicines, and any expensive equipment such as binoculars.

TRAIL CONDITIONS: Most of our time at the Lodge will be spent among the manicured gardens, along the entry road, and on trails into the surrounding woodland and rainforest. The main trail system into the heavier forest has some moderately steep grades, occasionally with well-made steps, but anyone in moderately good shape should be able to do this trail at a normal walking pace. The bird observation towers are wonderful, but they have several decks of stairs that must be considered. On all of the trails, your leader will move at a rate suitable for the group.

HEALTH: All water, fruits, and vegetables are safe for consumption at The Lodge at Pico Bonito. Bottled water will be provided for you on our excursions. If you are taking prescription medication or over-the-counter medicine, be sure to bring an ample supply to get through the tour safely, plus extra days in case of a delayed schedule. Please consult your physician, as necessary. Remember to pack all medication in your carry-on baggage, preferably in original containers or packaging. As standard travel precautions, you should always be current with tetanus shots, and you should strongly consider other optional inoculations. Mosquito-borne malaria does occur in some areas of Honduras, although we will generally not visit these regions. However, you should consult your physician regarding prophylactic medicines. In addition to your physician, a good source of general health information for travelers is the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention \(CDC\).

CURRENCY: The unit of currency in Honduras is the Lempira. Most stores and shops in Honduras accept U.S. dollars, although you will get a better exchange rate on purchases made with the local currency. That said, you may easily get through the whole trip without needing Lempiras. If you choose to acquire the local currency, it is most easily done before you arrive in Honduras. The Lodge at Pico Bonito accepts major credit cards for personal expenses, alcohol, or on-site souvenirs.

LANGUAGE: No worries if you don't know Spanish! English is widely spoken in the places we'll visit, and all the staff at Pico Bonito, where we will spend a majority of our time, speak English quite proficiently.
